National Award for Innovations & Good Practices in Educational Administration

(For District & Block Education Officers)

NIEPA has instituted National Award for Innovations & Good Practices in Educational Administration for District and Block Level Education Officers. The Scheme was launched in 2014 with an aim to encourage innovations and good practices in educational administration at grassroots level for improving the functioning of the public system of education. The overall aim of National Awards for Innovations & Good Practices in Educational Administration is to create a culture and ecosystem of innovations and good practices in educational administration at the field level of educational administration.

Objectives

- To identify innovations and good practices in educational administration at district and block level through the process of nominations and applications by the education officers at the district and block levels;
- To recognize the innovative initiatives through giving award or certificate of appreciation to those officers who conceived and implemented innovations; and
- To document and disseminate innovations and good practices in educational administration at district and block levels.

Target Groups

District and Block Level Education Officers are the main target groups of the Awards. The selected district and block level education officers are presented award/ certificate of appreciation in the national award presentation function conceding with a two-day national conference on innovations and good practices in educational administration, organised by NIEPA in New Delhi. The candidates are invited to participate and present their innovations in the conference.

Eligibility of Applicants

- Serving district and block level education officers (District Education Officers/DDPI/DDSE/ Deputy Directors posted in district, Deputy Education Officers/ Block Education Officers/ Assistant Education Officers/ Mandal Education officers/ Deputy BEO's or other such officers working at district or block levels designated differently in different states and UTs).
- Recipients of award during a particular year are not eligible to receive the same again for the next three years. However, they may send the details of innovative works done in subsequent year of receiving award along with evidence. Based on the merit of innovative work done, they may be given chance to participate and present their work with other participants in the National Conference on Innovations and Good Practices in educational administration which is organised as a prelude to National Awards Presentation Function.

Foreword

The scheme of National Awards for Innovations and Good Practices in Educational Administration was instituted by NIEPA in 2013- 2014 with its defined objectives of recognising the contributions of the field level educational administration in improving the functioning of public system of education and ensuring efficient delivery of educational services. This is one of the important initiatives of NIEPA to reach out to the field level education officers. The National Awards for Innovations and Good Practices in Educational Administration are given to selected District and Block Level Education Officers in a special awards presentation function coinciding with a two-day National Conference on Innovation in Educational Administration for the District and Block Level Education Officers. Due to the outbreak of Corona-19 pandemic and also as a precautionary measure, the Awards Function for the years 2018-19 and 2019-20 is being organised in online mode. The Conference will be organised once the situation comes to normal across the states.

It is important to mention here that since the launch of the Awards Scheme in 2014, a number of cases of innovations and good practices have been shared during the last four rounds of conferences and awards functions organised by NIEPA. More than 500 District and Block Level Education Officers from different states and UTs have participated in the function in previous years, besides a good number of resource persons and education experts. On all the occasions, the Honourable Minister for Human Resource Development (Now Ministry of Education), Govt. of India, have graced the occasion and distributed the awards to selected officers.

Like previous years, a large number of nominations were received from School Education departments of various state/UT governments for the consideration of awards for the year 2018-2019 & 2019-2020. After a careful scrutiny and multi-stage screening of cases by expert committees, 43 cases of innovation and good practices have been shortlisted for the Award or Certificate of Appreciation for the year 2018-2019. Similarly, 67 cases of innovations and good practices in educational administration have been selected for awards or certificate of appreciation for the year 2019-2020. Since the announcement of inviting applications for the consideration of awards for the year 2019-2020 was made after March 2020, a number of applicants have also reported their innovative initiatives for reducing the adverse impact of Covid-19 on educational processes, which have also been included among the other cases for the year 2019-2020.

All the shortlisted candidates have been invited to participate in the virtual Award Function being organised by NIEPA on 10 February 2022.

We gratefully acknowledge the contributions of several experts for their valuable efforts and inputs in identifying the major 'innovators' in educational administration. I also sincerely thank the faculty members of NIEPA who have contributed in their own respects at various stages of identification of innovations and good practices in educational administration.

I also place on record the tireless efforts of Professor Kumar Suresh, Head of the Department of Educational Administration at NIEPA and his team, especially Dr. V. Sucharita in making the entire process of implementation of the programme of National Award for Innovation in Educational Administration an admirable activity.

Preface

The document consists of profile of the officers who have been selected for the award or certificate of appreciation under the scheme of National Awards for Innovations and Good Practices in Educational Administration of NIEPA. A separate volume consisting of brief of write-ups on the cases of innovations and good practices reflect the central thrust of innovative initiatives taken by the district and block level education officers covering wide range of areas of educational administration. Since district and block education officers are the key functionaries of the system at field level, their role in improving the functioning of public system of education as well as government schools is of utmost importance. Their innovative initiatives can play an important role in improving the functioning of the education system at grassroot level and quality education in government schools, which can result in affirming the faith of parents and different stakeholders in the government school system. The cases of innovations and good practices aim at addressing this concern in variety of ways touching upon different areas of educational administration and schooling process in government schools. Variety of initiatives are taken by the district and block level education officers, besides the initiatives by their respective states. As large number of cases have been reported during the past four years, documenting the cases of innovations and good practices has been a major feature of the scheme.

On behalf of NIEPA and its Department of Educational Administration, and also on my own behalf, I express my sincere gratitude to all who have been guiding force in conceiving and shaping the idea of initiating the Scheme of National Awards for Innovations in Educational Administration for District and Block Level Education Officers. Since its inception, Vice-Chancellors of the institution have been very forthcoming in extending their support in implementing the programme during their respective tenure.

We are grateful to Professor N. V. Varghese, Vice-Chancellor, NIEPA for his unrelenting guidance and support in implementing the scheme of the National Awards for Innovations in Educational Administration.

The Advisory Committee of the Programme has been important source of guidance in improving various aspects of the programme, including the criteria and process of selection. Their insightful comments, suggestions and advice over the years have helped in fine-tuning the programme. We are grateful to all the members of the Advisory Committee; especially to the members of the Advisory- Expert Committee members of the current innovation programme- Professor R. Govinda, former Vice-Chancellor, NIEPA, Professor H. Ramachandran, former Director General of the Institute of Applied Manpower Research, Shri Abhimanyu Singh, former IAS officer who has been closely associated with and worked for the education sector development; Professor Sudhanshu Bhushan, NIEPA; and the Chairman of the Committee, Professor N V Varghese, for their valuable inputs.

The implementation of the programme would not have been possible without the support of the Department of School Education of different states and UTs. We are thankful to education Secretaries/ Commissioners/Directors of School Education Departments of States for sending nominations of District and Block Education Officers for the consideration of the National Awards for Innovations and Good Practices in Educational Administration. We are also thankful to all the candidates who submitted their write-ups on their respective areas of innovation in educational administration.

National Institute of Educational Planning and Administration (NIEPA)

National Institute of Educational Planning and Administration (NIEPA) was set up on 1962 as one of the four regional Centres of UNESCO to promote capacity development of educational planners and administrators in the Asian region. The Government of India took over in 1970 and renamed and retained it as the premier institution for research and training of educational administrators in India. It became a deemed to be university in 2006. It offers M.Phil. and doctoral level research degrees, training programmes for national and international participants and carried out empirical research and extends support to policy and planning of education in India. In the light of its seminal contribution in the area of educational policy and planning and felt need of starting a specialised postgraduate programme in educational planning and administration, the institution was conferred the status of a Deemed to be University with an added mandate of awarding degree. Given a very specialised nature of course, a very small component of students is admitted to pursue postgraduate courses (M.Phil./Ph.D.) in the area of educational planning and administration. Preparation for introducing Postgraduate Master Programme M.A. in Education (Educational Planning and Administration) is in the process. Two courses being run by the Institution (Postgraduate Graduate Diploma in Educational and Administration and International Diploma in Educational Planning and Administration (PGDEPA and IDEPA) are exclusively for educational administrators and functionaries of the Department of Education of the States and Union Territories of India and international participants belonging to the education cadre of the respective countries from Afro-Asian and Latin American countries nominated by their respective governments respectively. Both the programmes are in tune with the original mandate of the institution, started before the conferment of the status of Deemed to be University, the former was, however, upgraded from Diploma to Post Graduate Diploma in 2014.

NIEPA acts as a think tank and is the only national institution in the field of educational policy, planning and administration in India. The Ministry of Education and other public policy making institutions are the major users of its research findings. All capacity development programmes are addressing the educational administrators at the state and sub-state levels. A number of capacity development programmes are also organised for the academic administrators and leaders in higher education. Its main contributions to major national programmes include designing and developing District Primary Education Programme in the 1990s, SSA, RMSA and RTE in the 2000s. NIEPA undertakes several research studies at the request of the Ministry of Education, UGC and other public bodies every year. Similarly, it organizes several training and consultative meeting at the request of the Ministry. The clientele for its programme includes educational administrators at various levels as well as institutional heads.

NIEPA has always played an important role in the national education policy formulation and in designing several of the national educational programmes. The policy support extended by the Institute include its research and contributions to debates on the formulation of 1986 education policy, its revision in 1992, acting as a Secretariat to the Committee for Evolution of New Education Policy in 2016 and support to the current policy formulation exercise. NIEPA has also provided inputs for the implementation of NEP2020.

Major activities of the institution still continue to engage in policy-oriented research evaluative studies and capacity building programmes to the educational administrators and functionaries working at different levels in the department of education in states and union territories as well as institutions of higher education.
